“If Walls Could Talk”

You’ve heard the phrase “If Walls Could Talk”. It’s the things you can’t see that make a difference from one home to the next. At McGarvey Custom Homes, they make all the difference!

The following details will give you an idea of some of the ways we build a better home than our competitors. Over the years that you are in your home, the differences in the ways we build a home will make a difference to you not only in the appearance of your home but in maintenance, performance and value as well!

Our passion for detail isn’t just something we talk about. It can be seen in each home we build. It sets us apart!

PRE-CAST TRIM VS. FOAM TRIM

McGarvey Custom Homes uses cast concrete for trimming your home. Foam trim cannot withstand storms, pressure washing and wood pecker damage.

WATERPROOFING

McGarvey Custom Homes uses their own five-step waterproofing, and sealing process, and test all exterior window and door openings with water pressure and mark “OK” at each location for seal of approval.

MOLD - RESISTANT DRYWALL

McGarvey Custom Homes provides mold-resistant drywall on the interior side of the perimeter concrete masonry walls.

SPRAY FOAM INSULATION

Fi-Foil insulation is applied to interior of block walls, while Icynene® (an open cell spray foam insulation) is applied to the underside of the roof deck. This creates a low humidity environment by completely insulating the attic.

CEILING STRIPPING VS. WOOD FRAMING

To get a smoother finish on our drywall and a more level ceiling finish, we install 1" x 3" ceiling stripping along roof framing.

ROLL DOWN SCREENS AND SHUTTERS

We provide framed shutter boxes that conceal the equipment and tracks within the structure. This provides a clean look, with an aluminum louvered access panels for easy maintenance.
